Afraid Of Anal Sex?

I Already Lost It

I have always been fascinated with sex. I enjoy it however its anal sex that intrigues me the most. Even though I was curious about how it felt I never tried anal sex with any of my boyfriends. All of them, (and believe me I had 13) asked me to take one up the ass. I always refused. I was scared of the pain it caused as I had heard that it's a very painful experience. I always ran away from it. One of my boyfriends broke up with me just because I wouldn't try anal with him.

After years of not liking it, one day I decided to give it a go. I was single back then so the best option for me was to use a sex toy. Just like anal sex, I had never tried sex toys before as well. I actually Googled on how to use a sex toy for anal sex. There was a lot of information about it online. I got all the required things including a lubricant and got ready to do it. I'd be honest I was nervous to the core. I put lubricant on the sex toy, a dildo to be exact and then I applied some of it on my ass.

I used other anal sex toys like butt plugs as well. I started slowly. I put in the dildo and each time I kept increasing the proportion of dildo that went inside me. I also picked up the pace. It was very painful for me. I was actually regretting the decision. I was asking myself why I started all this in the first place. However the next day I felt the urge to do it again. Many days passed and I kept doing it every day. My ass not only started to feel okay about it but I started having fun as well.

Later when I made a new boyfriend, he was also very keen on anal sex. This time I was prepared. I was ready for it after so much experience with anal sex toys. When I tried it for the first time with my boyfriend then it was a very unique experience. I didn't think it would make me feel pain which it did.

I felt pain because this time it was a big erected penis in my ass that was being controlled by someone else.

I was no longer the one in control. I told him to start slow as it was my first time with a real person. He did just that, he started slow and then gradually increased the pace at which he was having sex with me. He really gave me an experience of a lifetime. I had a lot of fun.

I still think to myself about the time when I was nervous and scared of all this. I never thought that I would enjoy these things so much. However now that I have tried it I just want to keep doing it. When I don't have my boyfriend around I make do with the anal sex toys I have bought.

I know that many people out there are afraid of anal sex but I would like to say that it's only the start that is rocky. I want you people to enjoy it and don't get scared of all the fuss about anal sex being painful. Even if you don't like it the first few times, give it one more go and just like me, you would start liking it or should I say loving it. I just love the expression my boyfriend gives when he is enjoying in my ass. My boyfriend even told me that he loves anal sex more than sex in my pussy so I it really delights me. One thing to always keep in mind is that never go rough on it.

Always start slow and gradually increase the pace. I have been lucky in such cases but I have been told by a friend whose boyfriend was very rough during anal sex that rough anal sex can cause a lot of health related problems.

So always be safe when having fun. Take the pleasurable activity for what it is and don't make it too tough and rough that it takes away all the fun.

Nurse and Exotic Dancer

I always wanted to help people since I was a little girl. This is why I enrolled myself in a medical college and I was a very good student back in the day. Years passed and I started working as a nurse at one of the local hospitals. I spend my day helping people get better and caring for them so that they can get better. In the night I provide a different type of service. I care for people especially men in a very special way.

I love caring for people at the hospital but I have more fun in exciting men with some exotic taste. At night I work as a striptease dancer. In the morning I work on other people's body and in the night, men enjoy the presence and touch of my body. Who doesn't love a little extra income but to be honest, it's not about the money; I just love to entertain and excite men. I love it how they look at me when I am stripping. They seem so helpless when I am taking my clothes off. They think they are in power but it is actually me who is in power.

It feels like I can make them do whatever I want. I am the one who is dancing and stripping but it is they who dance on my orders. It just feels so good when men get excited when I am taking off my clothes. In some cases I enjoy it more than I enjoy taking care of people. It's a fun experience for me and the men. I always hope that I don't find a patient I recently treated at the strip club. It happened to me once and it was a very awkward experience.

Many men tell me that I am so beautiful that I make them excited by just dancing and strip teasing. I always take it as a compliment. Over the years I have learned a lot of new moves and dancing style. Many people look down on such dancers but I do with passion and love. I have a day job but I just love to dance as well.

It does something to me when I see men feel happy with my dance moves. Some of them even stuck money in my panties. Even though I have a great day job, my night job actually gets me more money than my proper day job.

Sometimes I even dress up as a sexy and hot nurse and then dance right above the lap of my male clients. For some reason they love seeing me as a naughty and sexy nurse. It comes natural to me 'if you know what I mean'. Guys usually ask me to dance with them strip for them however there is a certain limit that I never let them cross and I try my best to provide my clients with the best experience possible.
